1 to get a good reading on, you know, how it
2 affected the body.

3 Q So do you think it's important for
4 someone who has a history of cardiovascular
5 disease to not use kratom?

6 MS. PAYTON:

7 Object to the form.

8 A Not necessarily.

9 MR. COWGILL:

10 Q Why would there be an exclusion of
11 individuals with cardiovascular disease?

12 A So that you could actually get a good
13 reading of what the product is doing in the body.
14 If there's something that's already there and
15 then you take a product, it might react
16 different. You want kind of a clean baseline;
17 consume product, and then you can see what's 18 going on.

19 Q Do you agree that if -- if kratom has
20 an adverse effect on the cardiovascular system,
21 it should be warned of?

22 MS. PAYTON:

23 Object to the form.

24 A Um, like warned of how, by who?

25 MR. COWGILL:

Page 47

1 Q On the package.

2 A Oh, on the package?

3 Q Yeah.

4 A I don't know much about labeling
5 requirements, but I imagine if it's something
6 that's known and proven, then, sure, yeah, it
7 should be on there.

8 Q Yeah. So if there's a known or, quote,
9 unquote, known and proven risk of kratom use, it
10 should be warned of on the package?

11 MS. PAYTON:

12 Object to the form.

13 A Yeah. If it's confirmed, sure. Yeah.
14 Otherwise, I mean, you really wouldn't want to 15 preliminarily warn people about something that 16 may or may not happen. And that's not good for 17 business.

18 So, yeah, if it's -- if it's certain,
19 then absolutely.

21 WAS MARKED FOR IDENTIFICATION.)

22 MR. COWGILL:

23 Q All right. Let's take a look at
24 Exhibit 5 here, a Nutrasource document.
